OBJECTIVE

The Managerial Grid is a training design and its most important objective is to demonstrate to the manager that it is possible to maximize simultaneously the methods which are production-oriented and those which are people-oriented.

FOR

Senior Agency personnel, GS-15 through GS-18. The practice of nominating alternates has been discontinued. An individual who withdraws will not be replaced. For maximum benefit to the Agency, a Senior "Grid" should consist of as many "senior" officers as possible.

SECRET

DESCRIPTION

A one-week, full-time, residence course consisting of a series of team activities by means of which the individual student may examine the mechanics of team action, intergroup dynamics and his personal assumptions. Since May 1964, the Agency has sponsored nine runnings of this Senior "Grid" with a total of 382 senior officers attending. Mr. [REDACTED]

[REDACTED] who conducted the previous Senior "Grids", will again be the seminar leader.
